

Sexual Preference: Although the protection of the laws is granted to a variety of groups, gay people are virtually without rights in Alaska. After extensive hearings into the problems of discrimination which gay people face, the Commission adopted the following resolution:

The Alaska State Commission for Human Rights hereby acknowledges the fundamental human rights of all persons, including those with a sexual preference which may differ from the majority population. Therefore, the Alaska State Commission for Human Rights urges and supports the Alaska State Legislature to extend the statutory jurisdiction of the Commission by incorporating the words "sexual preference" as a protected right under A.S. 18.80, "Laws Against Discrimination".
